

Make a Name List

We often struggle with how to get started sharing our faith. One simple way, as suggested by authors Steve Smith and Ying Kai in their book “T4T”, is to develop a name list. Here’s how you do it:

- 1) Create a Name List of everyone you know who might be lost or far from God.

Think broadly about your relationship network (envision the New Testament Greek word Oikos, or household). Your household might include extended family, friends, coworkers, neighbors, customers, suppliers, vendors, students, patients, the mailman, etc.

Pray and ask God to bring to your mind who should be included on your list.

- 2) Ask God who on your list you should talk to first.

Pray for God to show you which 5 people on the list you should share with first. Circle those names.

- 3) Pray daily for the people on your list, and ask God for the boldness you need.

- 4) Set a time this week to share God’s Story or have a spiritual conversation with the five people you have circled.

- 5) Share the outcome of your conversations with a fellow disciple, and keep working on your list.
